DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species I: regarding an integrated circuit forming method with the steps of: incorporating at least some of the palladium into an intermetallic layer comprising the palladium and copper; and removing at least a portion of any second metal that is not incorporated into the intermetallic layer and exposing the intermetallic layer (claims 55-61).

Species II: regarding an integrated circuit forming method with the steps of: annealing the first and second metal-containing materials; and after the annealing, exposing the intermetal material (claims 62-63).

Species III: regarding an integrated circuit forming method with the steps of: forming an intermetallic material at least partially within the first wiring level; and forming a conductive via on and in electrical contact with the intermetallic material (claims 64-68).

Species IV: regarding an integrated circuit forming method with the steps of: forming a first metal-containing material consisting essentially of copper for an integrated circuit over a substrate; forming a second metal-containing material on and in contact with the first metal-containing material; after the annealing, removing any of the second metal-containing material that is not incorporated into the intermetal material; and after the removing, exposing the intermetal material to conditions effective to oxidize the first metal-containing material (claim 79).

2. The species are independent or distinct because they are mutually exclusive limitations

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Thanh Y. Tran whose telephone number is (571) 272-2110. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (9-6:30pm).
